Mission Statement

The mission of the American Guild of Organists is to enrich lives through organ and choral music. To achieve this, we encourage excellence in the performance of organ and choral music; inspire, educate, and offer certification for organists and choral conductors; provide networking, fellowship, and mutual support; nurture future generations of organists; promote the organ in its historic and evolving roles; and engage wider audiences with organ and choral music.

From the Dean

Greetings to all!

It's been a long, hot summer and I have missed seeing each of you. Hopefully everyone has had some time for rest and relaxation and been able to do some planning for the upcoming year. As I have said numerous times before, no other group offers the variety and quality of music that we have. Most new people joining AGO come because they were invited and brought by a current member, so let's "hit the ground running," invite new people and make expanding our membership a top priority for the 2018-2019 year.

The new CACAGO year will begin September 21 at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in North Little Rock. Rees Roberts will be our host and we will hear a recital by Dr. Kimberly Marshall, Professor of Organ at Arizona State University. Few chapters anywhere experience the kind of programming we regularly enjoy and this year promises to be no different. More details are found elsewhere in this newsletter and Beau will give more details at the meeting.

One other word, please make sure your dues are paid. I have seen several names listed as unpaid on the OnCard AGO website that I am sure are the result of someone's oversight. It is easy to let this slip by since everyone's dues no longer becomes payable on the same date!

I look forward to seeing everyone soon.

Thanks,
Bill

Biography of Kimberly Marshall

KIMBERLY MARSHALL is known worldwide for her compelling programs and presentations of organ music. She is an accomplished teacher, having held positions at Stanford University and the Royal Academy of Music, London. Winner of the St. Albans International Organ Playing Competition in 1985, she has been a recitalist, workshop leader and adjudicator at eight National Conventions of the American Guild of Organists. From 1996-2000, she served as a project leader for the Göteborg Organ Research Center (GOArt) in Sweden. She currently holds the Patricia and Leonard Goldman Endowed Professorship in Organ at Arizona State University.

Dr. Marshall's compact disc recordings feature music of the Italian and Spanish Renaissance, French Classical and Romantic periods, and works by J.S. Bach. Her most recent recording, Recital in Handel's Church, includes music by Bach and Handel on the new instrument in London at St. George's, Hanover Square. Her recording of Arnolt Schlick on the 500th anniversary of its publication (2012) and a CD/DVD set entitled A Fantasy through Time (2009) received great critical acclaim. Her expertise in medieval music is reflected in her recording, Gothic Pipes, as well as through her scholarly contributions in such publications as the Grove

Dictionary of Music and the Oxford Dictionary of the Middle Ages. To increase awareness of this repertoire, she published anthologies of late-medieval and Renaissance organ music in 2000 and 2004.

Kimberly Marshall is often invited to perform at conventions and festivals. During the summer of 2013, she appeared in Amsterdam, Seoul and Sweden; in 2014, she was a featured artist for the National Convention of the American Guild of Organists in Boston, as well as on performance series in England, Germany, France, New York and San Diego. During the summer of 2015, she was on the jury for the Schnitger International Organ Competition, where she performed on the earliest surviving instrument in the Netherlands, built in 1511. In 2016 Dr. Marshall played concerts in Seattle, Philadelphia, Bolivia, Amsterdam and Vienna, while her engagements in 2017 include the opening recital for the AGO regional convention in Salt Lake City and an inaugural recital of the new Paul Fritts organ for the Basilica at the University of Notre-Dame. In July 2018, she was chosen to perform for the final concert of the national convention of the American Guild of Organists in the Kauffman Center, Kansas City.
